This annual report contains forward-looking statements on Nissan's plans and targets, and related operating investment, product planning and production targets. Please note that there can be no assurance that these targets and plans will actually be achieved. Achieving them will depend on many factors, including Nissan's activities and development as well as the dynamics of the automobile industry worldwide and the global economy.

This annual report presents financial results for the fiscal period ending March 31, 2009. The report also provides shareholders with insights into Nissan's management team. Through one-on-one interviews, various members of executive management, including President and Chief Executive Officer Carlos Ghosn, discuss the philosophy and direction of Nissan.
